Editorial

As RMR Administration has changed the frequency of IMSTS from bimonthly to monthly on an advice of Research & Innovation Division of Higher Education Commission via hjr@hec.gov.pk; you are reading now the April edition where you have to again find unique and exclusive research papers.

Let me highlight the significance of the papers;

Social Justice and Environmentalism are two of the significant objectives within the UN-SDGs while, Zoroastrian community in Canada claims to ensure both as the part of their religion. Likewise, economic principles in Guru Granth Sahib indicate how Sikh community is achieving economic prosperity across the globe. Third Paper belongs to Yarsani community in Iran, following mysterious religion. Forth paper discusses the trend of interfaith marriages in Iran within an arena where popular Shia theologian Ayatollah Borujerdi opposes this. Lastly, the fifth paper discusses tourist economy belongs to Hindu temples in Azad Kashmir.
